

BLUEJAY 1964

THE CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY
STUDENT BOARD OF GOVERNORS
PRESENTS
THE 1964 BLUEJAY

The wandering Missouri, once described as "too muddy to drink and too wet to plow," has carved into its basin features which have done much to determine the growth and development of the Creighton University. While no consideration of Creighton could eliminate the influence of this natural factor, it will not be our primary concern.

Omaha from its railroads to its offices has presented an economic and cultural situation without which the university could never have prospered. While we will often be dealing directly with the city and its influence, again, this type of factor will not be our primary concern.

Creighton with its classrooms and dormitories, its library and chapel, in short its physical plant, will absorb the greatest portion of this book, but even it is not our object, our primary concern . . .

Our theme is that of the individual. Individuals at this point in their lives must be termed unique. Their dreams have lost the fantasy of childhood, and have not yet become bound to the concerns of later years. These aspirations, coupled with the opportunity of choice facing the young, take on qualities less like dreams and more like the potential of future lives.

A university is more than an institution of learning. It is a gathering place of people with dreams and potential. It is an opportunity to expand these dreams and this potential, an opportunity to select, to consolidate, to begin to build these futures.

This Book is a record of these individuals in this year in this university.

We, the editors and staff of
THE 1964 BLUEJAY,
dedicate this book to
DR. ALLAN M. SCHLEICH

AN OPEN LETTER

to

Dr. A. M. Schleich, Ph.D.

Dr. Allan M. Schleich started his teaching career at Creighton seventeen years ago. He received his A.B. in 1945 from the College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minnesota; his A.M. in 1946 from the University of Chicago; and his Ph.D. in 1959 from the University of Nebraska. In 1963, Dr. Schleich became the Chairman of the Department of History at Creighton. He was also instrumental in initiating Phi Alpha Theta, honorary History society.

The honor of being allowed to address the students, particularly the graduates, of the Creighton University in their yearbook is exceeded only by my humility. The task of dispensing words of wisdom upon such an occasion always weighs heavy upon the shoulders of the bearer.

Normally, university graduates are presented with wondrous tales: the world awaits you with outstretched arms. Opportunity abounds—careers in politics, industry and research stand ready for the taker. With this comes admonition—leadership will be demanded from you. You will be told that you enter a world in crisis, and, profiting from the errors of your elders, you will save the world from holocaust.

Fortunately, such a "dire fate" will pass by the majority of you. You will live, work and struggle in the halls of industry and government as you have lived, worked and struggled within the halls of ivy. The magnitude of your problems will be increased only by nearness to them, and perspective will save you from most.

The members of the faculty hope that when you receive your degree, you will leave Creighton as educated men and women, not merely as highly skilled technicians of a profitable trade. Be satisfied with the learning you take with you, but do not be content with yourself until you have made the best with that learning.

I hope that in the years to come none of you will look back and cry as Francois Villon, the 15th Century Master of Arts from the University of Paris once cried, "But where are the snows of yesteryear?" The dreams of youth are good, and they are needed; but it is evident that if these dreams are not fulfilled, the fault will lie "not in our stars, but in ourselves."

ADMINISTRATION

Varied Background Assist to President

The president of Creighton, the Very Rev. Henry W. Linn, S.J., is a man long versed in the vital aspects of the university; for the past quarter of a century, Father Linn has served the university in numerous teaching and administrative positions. Father Linn received his Ph.D. in the classics and began his career here in 1938, as an instructor in the Department of Classical Languages.

During the war, Father Linn served as a liaison officer between the university and the military; Father Linn was also chaplain for the service units stationed at Creighton. In 1943, he established the Creighton Institute of Industrial Relations, and in 1944 assumed the position of Dean of the University College, the School of Journalism, and the Graduate School.

Since 1946, Father Linn has been active in the public relations field in a succession of offices, culminating in his most recent position, Vice President in charge of University Relations. In this office, he has supervised public relations, alumni, and development activity. The long range planning for the university expansion was activated last spring in the successful drive to raise four million dollars which will be used as seed money for future physical and academic expansion.

In spite of the demanding responsibilities of his office, Father Linn maintains his interest in the classics and the area of public relations to which his work has led. He retains membership in such academic organizations as the National Classical Association and the American Philological Association as well as numerous public relations and development associations.

The Very Reverend Henry W. Linn, S.J.

Four Vice Presidents Claim Wide Experience

Rev. Carl M. Reinert, S.J.

Rev. Richard C. Harrington, S.J.

Rev. John J. Halloran, S.J.

Rev. Thomas H. Murphy, S.J.

Assisting Father Linn through their specialization in specific areas of university administration are the four Vice Presidents of Creighton. These officers and their departments are: The Rev. C. M. Reinert, S.J., Vice President in charge of University Relations; The Rev. R. C. Harrington, S.J., Vice President in charge of Academic Affairs; The Rev. J. J. Halloran, S.J., Vice President in charge of Student Life; and The Rev. T. A. Murphy, S.J., Treasurer of the University.

These men meet the problems of their offices with wide backgrounds of preparation gained in their past service to the university. Father Reinert, just previous to his assumption of the duties as the president of The Creighton University Development Foundation, had served the university for twelve years as president. Father Harrington was, until September of the 1963 school year, also the Dean of the Graduate School. Father Halloran has served as Assistant Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; and Father Murphy has filled the treasurer's position for the last thirty-three years.

LEO A. DALY
Chairman of the Board of Regents.
President, Leo A. Daly Co.

Maintaining Creighton's integral position in Omaha and keeping the university abreast of the city's progress is largely the work of the Board of Regents. This eighteen man board is composed of some of Omaha's first rate executives and professional men who bring to the university the benefit of their experience and advice concerning the problems facing a growing institution.

The board, under Chairman Leo A. Daly, meets once a month but its counsel is always available through three standing committees whose specific fields cover the major aspects of the university. These committees and their chairman are: the University Relations Committee, John F. Davis; the Financial Consultant Committee, W. B. Millard; and the Campus Planning and Development Committee, A. F. Jacobson.

The regents' interest in Creighton, however, is not confined to their position on the board. They are active in such fields as the recent development funds campaign which brought in four million dollars as seed money for the twenty-four million needed for the planned academic and physical expansion program. Spearheading the drive as workers and chairmen they provided a unity which contributed much to the drive's success.

National representatives to the Board are: Charles E. Becker, Springfield, Illinois; Frand Hand, M.D., San Francisco, California; Charles H. Juergens of New York, New York.

Colonel Urban E. Rohr

The new Dean of Men, Colonel Urban E. Rohr, has been at Creighton University since 1961, serving as Professor of Military Science in the university's Reserve Officer Training program. Colonel Rohr attended the University of Dayton, where he graduated in 1936 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering.

As Dean the colonel's duties cover the general supervision of the men's activities ranging from the approval of housing to fraternity activity. The post of Dean is under the supervision of the new Vice President of Student Affairs.

The newly appointed dean of women is Mrs. Eileen T. Lieben. Mrs. Lieben, who has done graduate work at Manhattanville, received her Master's degree from Creighton in 1962.

In her position as Dean Mrs. Lieben's duties include the determination of dormitory policy, and the supervision of all coed activities such as the coed honor society, Gamma Pi Epsilon, and the various sororities on campus.

Assisting Mrs. Lieben is the former Dean of Women, Mrs. Maureen C. Hamilton.

Mrs. Eileen T. Lieben

The Reverend T. K. McKenney, S.J.

Keeping the College of Arts and Sciences ready for Creighton's expanding student population is the work of the Rev. T. K. McKenney, S.J., the Dean of the College, and the Rev. H. J. McAuliffe, S.J., the Acting Assistant Dean. Father McKenney has had considerable experience in administrative work; before coming to Creighton he was principal of three different high schools. After coming to Creighton in 1956, Father taught English and Theology for two years and then assumed the duties of Assistant Dean. In 1962 he became Dean.

The College of Arts and Sciences is always the core of the university and as such will see much of the university's expansion take place in its own classrooms. Moreover, since all the professional schools require a background of arts courses, any expansion of these schools will be reflected on the Arts and Science rolls.

Dean Gives Depth To Business Administration

The new Dean of the College of Business Administration is also a former Creighton graduate. Dr. I. L. Heckmann received his B. S. in Commerce at Creighton before going on to graduate M. B. A. and doctoral work at the University of Wisconsin. Dean Heckmann has taught at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Illinois where he spent the last two years of his nine year tenure as chairman of the Department of Management.

Dr. Heckmann's plans for the college include the continuing growth of the undergraduate school and the availability of a graduate degree in Business Administration for those whose careers will take them to the leadership and management of the community.

Indicative of this growth of the Business School is the arrival of two new teachers, both participating in doctorate programs in economics.

Dr. Irvin L. Heckmann - Dean

Rev. Neil Cahill, S.J. - Jesuit Counselor

Dr. Floyd E. Walsh - Dean Emeritus

James A. Doyle - Dean

Law School Fosters City Legal Aid Society

Keeping Creighton's School of Law abreast of the 1960's is largely the work of the school's Dean, James A. Doyle. Dean Doyle received his LL.B. in 1933 from the University of Nebraska and went on to receive his LL.M. in 1939 from Harvard. His years of private practice include a list of public appointments such as Special Assistant to the Attorney General and Solicitor on Litigation. From 1951 to 1960 he was the Director of Omaha Legal Aid Clinic. Since 1948 he has served as Dean and Professor of Law here at Creighton.

Projects now underway in the law school include participation in the Legal Aid Society of Omaha which allows advanced students a practical outlet for their talents and a realistic gauge for their progress in law school. The participating students are allowed to advise and counsel the poor of the city with regard to their legal problems. The first semester only seniors were allowed to take part, but the project was opened to juniors during the second half of the year.

Rev. LeRoy E. Endres, S.J. - Jesuit Counselor

Graduate School Adds Mathematics Program

Since the fall of the 1963 session the post of Dean of the Graduate School has been filled by Dr. Arthur E. Umscheid. Dr. Umscheid came to Creighton in 1937 as lecturer in the History Department. In 1957 he became Chairman of the History and Political Science Departments, the position he held until becoming Dean.

Dr. Umscheid assumed his duties in the school at a time when the long-range expansion planning was concluding and its place was being taken by problems of the three newly participating programs. These programs are the national Business Administration Program and the graduate programs in Mathematics and Guidance and Counseling. Last year the Business Administration enrolled 105 students. Ninety-four returned and thirty-seven new students were admitted. The graduate program in mathematics opened this year with thirty students.

Med School Occupies New Research Center

Since the summer of 1963 Dr. Richard Egan, Dean of the School of Medicine, has been in the process of directing a migration from the old location at 14th and Davenport to the Hilltop. A veteran of the old school, Dr. Egan received his M.D. from Creighton in 1940. He joined the faculty in 1941 and became Dean in 1959. In his years with the university Dr. Egan has seen the school of medicine grow in all three of its major functions: teaching, research, and service. The teaching aspect of the school has reached a high point of 250 faculty members including those professors who contribute their services on a part time basis. The first unit of the new medical center is the research building. The clinic operated by the school has received over 3,000 out-patient visits in the last year.

The migration from the old location is a gradual one taking place as the new units are completed. The research center was completed and occupied in the summer of 1963 and now houses the greater portion of Creighton's extensive research projects.

Rev. James J. Quinn, S.J. - Jesuit Counselor

Dr. R. Dale Smith - Assistant Dean

Dentists Eye Plans For Science Building

The Dean of Creighton's School of Dentistry is a man with considerable experience in the university's dental school machinery. A graduate of Creighton and member of the Dentistry faculty since 1956. Dr. Shaddy served as chairman of the department of Operative Dentistry before his appointment to the deanship.

Plans for the further development of the College of Dentistry will be realized only as quickly as the university can erect its planned science building. The new building will free much of the laboratory space in the dentistry building for classrooms and expanded clinic activities.

Raymond W. Shaddy, D.D.S. - Dean

Rev. Norbert Lemke, S.J. - Jesuit Counselor

John J. Butkus, D.D.S. - Assistant Dean

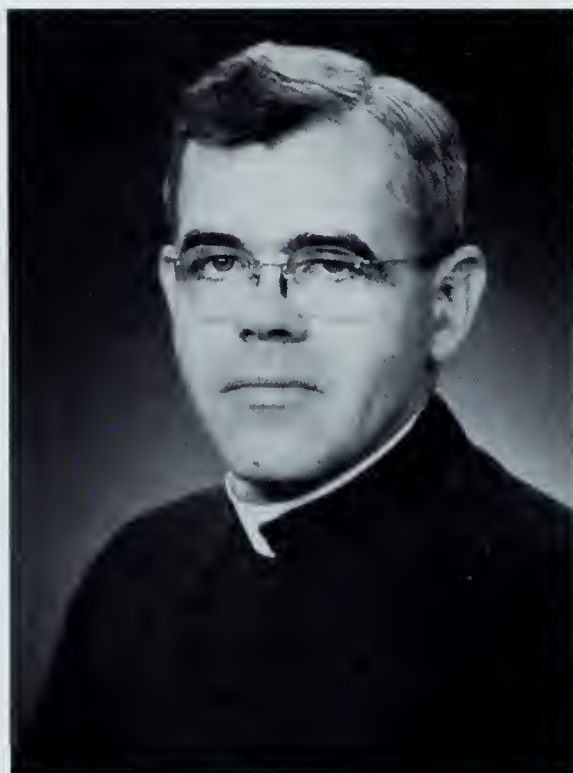

Dr. Salvatore J. Greco - Dean

Expansion Foreseen In Pharmacy School

The task of training qualified personnel in the rapidly changing field of pharmaceutical science is the work of Dr. Salvatore J. Greco, Dean of the School of Pharmacy. Dr. Greco received his Ph.D. from the University of Maryland and came to Creighton after teaching at Temple and George Washington universities. He was named Dean in 1958 and has complete charge of the 128 students enrolled in the Pharmacy School.

Plans for the expansion of the school anticipate a jump in enrollment next year to 145 students, a level which is considered the maximum capacity for the present structure. Future expansion, then, will come with the completion of the third unit of the new medical center to a capacity of about 200 students.

The Alumni Association at Creighton dates back to 1914. The Association's aim is to aid and support Creighton University in every possible way, to promote the educational, social, cultural, moral, and professional advancement of Creighton University, its students and alumni.

At the present time there are some 20,000 Creighton alumni with 57 alumni clubs in 26 of the 50 states. All graduates and faculty members of Creighton University and its affiliated schools and colleges, and all former students who attended for at least two semesters, are members in good standing of the Creighton University Alumni Association. The President of the Student Board of Governors is also an ex officio member of the governing council of the Association.

Grants Mark Progress In Education Research

Grants to Creighton University have been steadily increasing during the past few years. These are another indication of the role that Creighton is playing in research in educational fields. About 80 per cent of the money spent for research at Creighton is received from grants.

Dr. Robert Heaney of the Medical School received over one half million dollars for work on bone metabolism. This is one of the largest grants ever received at the University. Dr. Fletcher A. Miller, Chairman of the Department of Surgery, has a $20,000 grant for the study of various types of ulcers. Dr. Julian J. Baumel has a grant for the study of the craniocervical vasculature of the pigeon.

Dr. Allan M. Schleich, chairman of the Department of History, received a Creighton University grant last summer to go to Scotland to do historical research.

Dr. Donald Biggs of the Education Department has a grant which enables him to study the educational beliefs of teachers. Mr. Robert Beum, Assistant Professor of English, is doing a study of the impact of linguistic research on traditional prosody. Dr. Frank L. Byrne, Associate Professor of History, is researching the lives of six female temperance leaders for Notable American Women.

Dr. Gustav Kaldegg is studying various points of Navaho syntax. Rev. Joseph Costelloe, S.J., is engaged in Church research in Rome. Dr. Leo V. Jacks, professor of Classical Languages, is translating the works of St. John Chrysostom for the Fathers of the Church series. The Rev. Wendell Langley, S.J., assistant professor of Theology, is doing research on religious anti-intellectualism in the mid-eighteenth century.

Mr. G. Benjamin Paxton

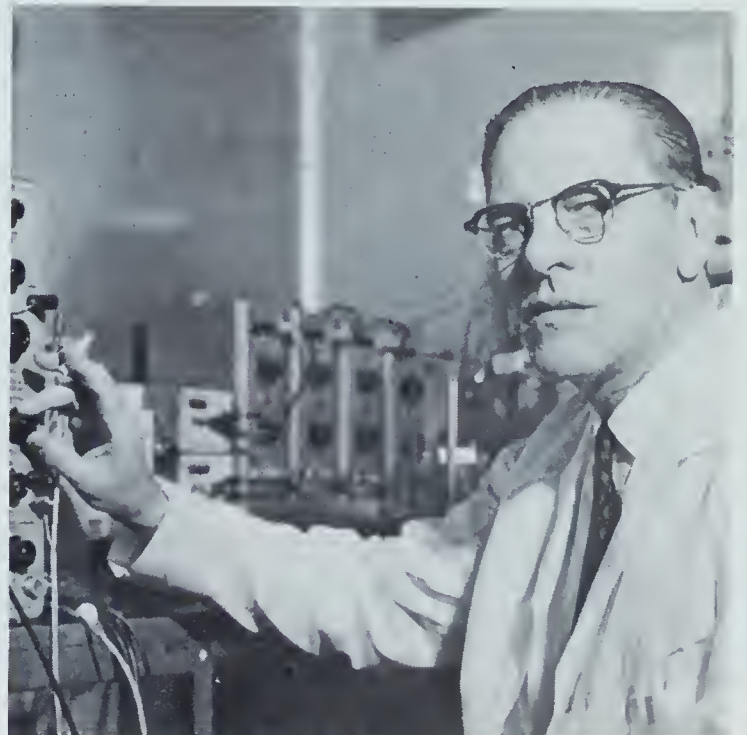

Mr. Conrad Marquard

Rev. Martin O. Vaske, S.J.

In the Dental School, Dr. Clinton F. Goblits, professor of Prosthetic Surgery, received a second year renewal of his grant given by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He is attempting to work out a psychological test which would determine whether a patient could accustom himself to dentures. In the Biology Department, Dr. William C. Cordes, assistant professor of Biology, is studying fatty acid metabolism. Dr. Allen B. Schlesinger, chairman of the Department and James Malkowski, instructor in Biology, have a grant to study the nesting habits of the blue heron.

Dr. Salvatore Valentino, professor of Finance, is compiling a casebook on the management of financial institutions. Manfred Pieck, associate professor of Law, is doing a comparative analysis of the privilege against self-incrimination. Mr. Rene Beauchesne, director of the Center for Political Research, has received aid from the government to do research for the Civil Service Commission.

Requiescat in Pace

This year, Creighton lost three fine teachers and friends. Dr. Victor E. Levine, Professor Emeritus of biological chemistry at the Medical School, has been a faculty member since 1934. Dr. Levine was also a visiting lecturer in Madrid and Valencia on the Full-bright program.

Dr. Charles Courtney, professor of Marketing in the College of Business Administration, died suddenly on February 28, 1964. He was at Creighton for 39 years, beginning his career in 1932 as an assistant professor of marketing and management.

The Rev. Paul F. Smith, S.J., chairman of the English department, died on March 27, 1964. Coming to Creighton in 1940, he left to establish a Jesuit college in New Delhi, returning in 1953. Besides being an authority on Shakespeare, he received his doctorate in philosophy from the Gregorian University in Rome and his Doctor of Law degree from Creighton.

Registration Day: Out Of Confusion-Chaos

Mass of the Holy Ghost at Saint Cecilia's . . . Founder's Week means rededicating.

Rev. W. R. O'Donnell, S.J. (left) and Mr. A. K. Bettinger, at the Convocation . . . Founder's Week means recognition for service.

Founder's Week Sees University As a Unit

Tuesday of Creighton Founders' Week is traditionally Student Day. On this day the university gears its activities to the students beginning the new academic year. The Mass of the Holy Ghost is celebrated at both St. Cecilia's Cathedral and St. John's Church in order to accommodate the entire student body. The afternoon of Student Day is devoted to the President's Convocation in the Music Hall of the Civic Auditorium. The Convocation gives the university the opportunity of announcing the school's plans for the coming year and outlining the schedule of workshops and conferences.

During Founders' Week the University awards citations to those whose contribution to the school has been outstanding. On Student Day the faculty members and university personnel are cited. Other awards presented at the convocation included the announcement of new members of the Jesuit Honorary Societies, Alpha Sigma Nu and Gamma Pi Epsilon.

Rev. Wm. J. Kenealy, S.J., at the faculty dinner . . . Founder's Week means teaching.

Ed Fitzsimmons, John Cogley . . . Founder's Week means listening.

College Bowl Places Scholars Before Nation

Jim Guss, Rosemary Quinn, Terry Tilford, Morris Pongrotz . . . the 1st team.

Rev. R. C. Williams, S.J.

Mr. G. B. Poxton

Mr. E. P. G. Corbett

Creighton University had the opportunity this year to send four of its top scholars to New York City in order to participate in the General Electric College Bowl on the N.B.C. Television Network. The Creighton scholars competed against another Jesuit college, Fairfield University. In the final tally, Fairfield defeated Creighton 215-140 academic points.

The Creighton University put up a good fight, and, although each member of the team demonstrated a considerable variety of knowledge, this was not enough to counter the fantastic memory exhibited by Joseph Kroll of Fairfield. The invitation to the Bowl in itself is sufficient evidence that Creighton is taking its place among leading Liberal Arts colleges in the U.S. A $500 prize from General Electric was given to the Creighton Scholarship Fund.

Leadership Conference Gives Outlet to Ideas

The student body of Creighton University began Founder's Week with the Sixth Annual Student Leadership Conference. The conference is the result of an idea by the Rev. Henry W. Linn, S.J., while he was the vice-president in charge of university relations. The preparation for the fall conference began in the Spring when opinion polls were taken in the form of suggestion sheets from the student body. These suggestions were then classified under five main headings for study during the conference.

Arts junior, Steve Cross, was the chairman of the conference this year. Topics ranged this year from racial discrimination in approved housing to facilitating service during the rush hours in the cafeteria of the student center. The resolutions passed by the various committees are passed on to the Student Board which in turn submits them to the Administration for final action.

Don Rogers, Bill Linn, and leader . . . creating a problem.

Steve Cross and Howard Potter . . . happy there were problems.

Will Rollman . . . looking for the problem.

Tim LeClair, Jerry Crawford, Sue Turner . . . so many ways to spend a nickel.

Fall Frolic Boosts Omaha Charity Drive

Creighton's Fall Frolic in 1963 brought in an all-time high in the university's contribution to the United Community Services drive. The Frolic comprises the culmination of the campus U.S.C. campaign which features the Miss Cutie-Mr. Ugly Contest. Creighton "Good Guys" vote for their favorite contestant in the form of a five cent donation per vote. In 1963, the campaign netted a total of $1,003.85. Miss Cutie was Becky Aplington, representing Theta Phi Alpha, and Mr. Ugly was John Osborne, from Iota Kappa Epsilon. The victors were announced at the Frolic held at Peony Park, and each was awarded a bowl of popcorn for their record-breaking campaign.

Obviously Miss Cutie . . . Becky Aplington

John Osborne . . . definitely ugly.

Tom Dugdale and Ann Shaughnessy . . . anything he can do?

Mary Jean Hills and Nick Cioccio wanting to hold her hand.

Peter Nero . . . practice, practice, practice.

Student Board Brings Peter Nero to Campus

On November 19, 1963, Peter Nero gave a piano concert for the student body at the Civic Auditorium. Mr. Nero played to a full house, and the students enjoyed for a few hours, the presence of a truly great wizard of the keys.

The Student Board of Governors was responsible for bringing Mr. Nero to Creighton. The activity card which was initiated by the Board covered all costs, and the students received one of its many benefits.

Along cultural lines at Creighton, the students were able to see one of Broadway's finest shows, A Man For All Seasons, which was also a benefit of the activity card.

Mixers Make Friends And Aid Solvency

A typical Friday night is composed of popular tunes played by a local combo, clusters of students wishing and wondering along the side-lines, and a few brave souls demonstrating the present dance craze. Attendance is either "stag or drag," and an unusual time is guaranteed for everyone.

The mixers are sponsored by various organizations on campus throughout the school year with the exception of Lent. They are used as "money makers" by sponsoring agencies, and as the start of an active social week-end for students.

The mixers also serve as a medium for meeting different people on campus. Incoming freshmen have the opportunity to meet each other at the first mixer of the year, and each successive mixer provides inexpensive entertainment for budgeted college students.

It was competition like this from St. Mary's that kept the C. U. girls on their toes.

John Beocom and Gwen Annoble . . . knowing all the moves.

Tom Brady and crowd: Happiness is hoving feet that do what you want them to.

Moking them bounce . . . mixers are drummy.

On Nov. 8, 1963, the 35th Annual Military Ball was held at Peony Park. The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the new Honorary Colonel. Miss Jane McCarty, Arts Junior, of Omaha, was presented with an insignia of honorary rank by Maj. Gen. D. P. Quandt, Commanding General of the XVI Army Corps. Runner-up Carol Malueg, received the title of honorary deputy brigade commander.

The five other candidates—Melissa Wester, Alice Daly, Margaret Mrzлак, Agnes Karlin, and Shelley Green—received the rank of honorary company commanders.

Other military awards for outstanding service in the advanced R.O.T.C. program that night went to David M. Keller, David McNeil, Jr., Dennis L. Morin, John C. Smith, Thomas D. Thalken, and Robert A. Zelten. A drill demonstration was also given at the ball.

Homecoming of 1963: The Week That Was

Monday, as students came into the Center, they were greeted with the colorful booth where Homecoming hats and pins were sold. On Friday afternoon the annual Homecoming Parade left campus with unseasonably warm weather prevailing.

That night the Creighton Bluejays defeated LaSalle College in basketball at the Civic Auditorium. The evening was topped off with a Victory Dance at Peony Park to the music of Skippy Anderson. The dorm decorations and float winners were announced, and the court of the Queen was presented. Winners in the Large-Dorm division were: first-place, Gallagher Hall and second-place, Deglman. Small-Dorm winners were Aquinas, first, and Noonan, second—both co-ed residences.

For float decorations Pharmacy again took first place. Delta Sigma Pi-Theta Phi Alpha placed second, followed by Alpha Kappa Psi-Alpha Sigma Alpha, third; and Iota Kappa Epsilon Delta Zeta fourth.

The special maids of the Queen's court were Mary Lee O'Keefe and Julie Proskocil.

"Babes In Arms" Adds Music to Homecoming

The C.U. players presented the Broadway musical Babes In Arms which was written by Rodgers and Hart. Opening night was during Homecoming Week. The play is a story of a group of summer stock actors who want to present their own review in hopes of attaining stardom. Their only trouble is that their "owner" refuses to give them any time to practice as long as they work for him. The result is a frolicking comedy which, of course, has a happy ending.

The play was directed by the Rev. Anthony P. Weber, S.J., and produced by the C.U. Players as a whole.

Club Internationale Is Scene of Native Talent

This year Club Internationale offered its usual variety to the audience. The upper level of the Student Center was converted into a night club which was brought about by the soft light of candles in wine bottles.

The audience was well-pleased with the evening as was indicated by the echoes of lasting applause. Refreshments were also provided by coeds dressed as French waitresses.

The acts ranged from comedy to baton twirling, and it was evident that the performers had put in many hours of hard practice in order to achieve the almost professional performances that were presented. The highlight of the evening was a comedy act provided by Father Hasbrouck.

Fr. Weber, Carl Oberdorfer, Larry Williams, and George Baca . . . "The Fathers Four" with a barbershop guitar.

The Cotillion is the largest social gathering for the freshmen during their initial year at Creighton; and it came as a climax to a week of nominating and electing the Cotillion Queen. Pam Cummings was crowned by Terri Heinz, last year's Queen, during the dance's intermission.

The Pan-Hellenic Council at Creighton University sponsored two major dances this year. All of the sororities on campus were represented at each of these dances. The first event was held in February at the Blackstone Hotel in order to honor the new initiates. At this dance, Ken Mall was chosen the "Sweetie Pie" of Theta Phi Alpha.

In May, a dinner dance was held at the Town House. The Spring event is primarily to award the Scholarship Cup and the City Pan-Hellenic Tray. These awards are presented to the sorority with the highest academic average. Also this year the Creighton Council presented a bracelet to the senior coed with the highest Q.P.A.

Booster Days Acquaints Students with Firms

The purpose of the Bus. Ad. Booster Days, jointly sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi and Delta Sigma Pi business fraternities, is to acquaint students and the public with local firms and organizations. Co-chairman this year were David Keller and Sammy Biggs.

For the sixth annual booster day, Morris Jacobs, president of Bozell and Jacobs Advertising Agency spoke on the "Growth of Advertising Business." Some of the representative displays were from Storz Brewery; National Cash Register; Briggs Clothing; Campbell Soup Company; Kodak; and Metropolitan Utilities District.

The lecture series at Creighton is sponsored by the Academic Senate and the Student Board of Governors. The series is divided into the Concert Series, the Visiting Scholar Lectures, and the Current Affairs Lectures. A certain amount of the student activity fee is devoted to this program. The selection of lecturers is made by a revolving committee.

The lectures this year included a broad cross-section of interests and subjects. Pianist, Richard Morris; Biologist, Dr. Phillip Grant; Violinist, Stephen Hero; Artist, Won Kyung Cho; F.B.I. Inspector, R. A. Huber; Poet, John Ciardi; and Tenor, Elmer Copley were included.

Caravan, Travelers 3 Sponsored by Board

On March 11, 1964, the Ford Caravan, which is a group of four acts, appeared at the Music Hall. The Caravan is sponsored by the Ford Foundation to bring entertainment to college campuses throughout the country. The Foundation pays one half of the expenses, and the host school the other half.

The Travelers Three appeared at the Music Hall on March 18, 1964. This group specializes in American folk songs, and presents a fine comedy act along with the singing. When they appeared at Creighton, the Travelers were on a college concert tour through the Middle West.

Both these fine troops of entertainers were brought to the campus by the effort of the Student Board of Governors.

Debate Team Travels In Search of Opponents

Creighton's Debate Team has traveled a considerable number of miles this year in order to try their skills in tournament competition. Under the direction of Father Bergen, the team devotes many hours to research and practice. Creighton's team is a member of the Missouri Valley League and the Nebraska Inter-Collegiate Forensic Association.

The team has debated at St. Thomas College, Regis College, Denver University, Notre Dame, University of Kansas, and Montana State. At each of these meets, the major event is debate on a national topic with minor contests made up of original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and oratorical interpretation.

Steve Cross, John Glode, Pat Devaney, and Molly Maynard display one of the many individual awards won on the road.

First Bridge Tourney Lauded as Big Success

Early in March, 38 teams of avid bridge players began competing in the Creighton Bridge Tournament. On April 5, championship play-offs were held among the remaining six teams. Receiving a trophy for their triumph was the winning pair—Vic Young and Steve Nelson.

Preliminaries of the tourney were played in contract bridge but the finals were in the more difficult form of duplicate. Competitors played over 100 games during the first week and no team was allowed to play the same opponent more than once.

The Rev. Robert Shanahan, S.J., directed the first competition of this type held on campus.

The Prodigal which is a contemporary rewrite of Greek tragedy, The Orestera, by Aeschylus was presented on campus March 15 and 19, under the direction of Harry Langdon. The dialogue of the play is modern and the plot is molded to fit contemporary customs, ideas and social conditions. This production offered many students who are not members of the Creighton players a chance to participate in a campus presentation.

The cast also included Dave Pales and Tom Rose. Terry Mollner as stage manager with the help of Joe Dwyer, Beth Roetelle Yvonne Buresh, Sharon Powers and Barbara Gruber were instrumental in the final production.

Corporation Meeting Attracts Slim Quorum

The annual corporation meeting was held in the student center April 7. This meeting provides an opportunity for the students to present resolutions on issues which they feel are vital to the policy of the Student Board.

This year the main resolution considered was presented by Fred Gates, Sophomore Class President. It was a proposal to increase the membership on the Board in proportion to the enrollment. The measure was defeated in a close vote.

The Dukes of Dixieland . . . teaming up to spin the rafters.

The trombone said a mouthful.

Just as the old generation survives in its offspring, so the oldest tradition of jazz was kept alive April 8 in Omaha's Civic Auditorium by a handful of young musicians from the land of Dixie. The Dukes of Dixieland, including a father and sons team of trumpet, trombone and banjo players, played their speciality to an enthusiastic crowd of 1,100. Even though the attendance was cut somewhat because of senior comprehensive examinations the next day, the Dukes entertained with such oldies-but-goodies as "Riverside Blues," "St. James Infirmary" and "When the Saints Go Marching In."

The concert was divided into the men's slow Plain Song, the choir's singing of Bach's Chorale and a number of organ solos by Michael McCabe and Robert Haller, the Associate Organist. The moderator of the choir is the Rev. Martin O. Vaske, S.J.

The finale of the concert was Thomas Mathew's The Day of Resurrection directed by Allan Elliot complete with organ, trumpets, tympanie, and the 60 voice choir.

Arts Council Shows Week-End Movies

This year as in the past, students were able to enjoy free weekend movies under the sponsorship of the Arts Council. Shown in the auditorium of the Business Administration building were such features as Giant, The Music Man, The Days of Wine and Roses and other great movies.

The Rev. Richard C. Harrington, S.J., Academic Vice President, was responsible for the program of foreign films shown on campus. Among these were Last Year at Marienbad (French), Bal-lad of a Soldier (Russian), and Rasho-Mon (Japanese).

Father Williams gives an introduction to Last Year at Marienbad.

Inter-Fraternity Council Sponsors Greek Day

The Inter-Fraternity Council is made up of representatives from each of the graduate and under-graduate fraternities. This year the Council placed renewed emphasis on its role as a mediator and board of arbitration between fraternities.

In May the IFC sponsored a Greek Day on which the individual fraternities held picnics then met for a series of contests including bicycle races, tug-of-war, football throw and others. Trophies were awarded to the first-place winners in each fraternity which participated.

Ninth Creighton Capers Produces Stage Funds

The ninth annual Creighton Capers was held on April 10, in the main dining room of the Student Center. Capers, sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics fraternity, was under the general direction of Arts-Junior, Judy Roncka. The money that is realized from the show is used for dramatic productions on campus.

The seven acts in competition this year were from Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta, Theta Phi Alpha, Alpha Kappa Psi, Alpha Phi Omega, Delta Sigma Pi. Trophies were awarded to first place winners, Theta Phi Alpha; second place, Alpha Sigma Alpha; and third, Alpha Kappa Psi. The judges were Dr. Edward P. J. Corbett, Mary Levine, and Laura Jones.

Creighton Players Stage First Outdoor Product

For the first time in Creighton's history, an outdoor production was staged by the Creighton players under sponsorship of the Speech Department. On April 19, 26, and May 2, in conjunction with Parents Weekend, Shakespeare's comedy, Two Gentlemen of Verona was presented near the observatory. Scott Strode, speech instructor, directed and produced the play and designed most of the scenery.

The two gentlemen, Proteis and Valentine, were played by Dennis Smith and Gregory Filas. Terry LaBedz and Suzi Curran, the female leads, were Julia and Silvia. Bill Tobin sang "Who is Silvia."

Student Board Puts Activity Card to Work

The Student Board of Governors directs the non-profit corporation known as the Creighton University Student Union. The purpose of this corporation to which all full-time students belong is to further the best interests of the university and of its students. It further tries to enlarge, organize, and centralize the student activities. The corporation tries to establish mutually advantageous relations among the students and the administration, and to help all in need of financial assistance as far as possible.

For the past two years, the sixteen representatives have managed the Student Activities Fee, providing the student body with the main all-university dances, a concert series, lectures, foreign films, and many other events which otherwise would have been an extra financial drain on the students.

Who's Who Recognizes Non-Board Members

The "Who's Who" section of the yearbook is devoted to recognizing those people on campus who are not members of the Student Board of Governors. These students may be considered as unofficial members of the Board in view of their service records to the University. Each one of these people is a leader in his respective school. The people in Who's Who are selected by an impartial committee made up of the Deans of Men and Women; The Vice President in charge of Student Affairs; Representatives from the Pan-Hellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils; a representative of the Student Board; and the Editor of the Bluejay.

The Arts Council is made up of all the officers from the Arts school. Its main purpose is to provide continuity among the various classes. The Council sponsored the Freshman Cotillion, and the Arts Picnic. It provided motion pictures every other Sunday evening of the second semester.

Many smaller projects such as the creation and arrangement of new bulletin boards, and the initiation of what is known as a blue card which will merit a discount for students by several Omaha merchants were also added to the year's achievements. Officers are Fred Kohler, President; Fred Gates, Vice-President; Pat Padden, Secretary; Mike Wanek, Treasurer.

Dorm Councils Grow As Germs of Unity

The idea of a dorm council was first conceived in 1962 by Deglman Hall. Since its start, this movement has gained much momentum on campus. Both Gallagher and Deglman have a monthly meeting which is attended by the elected council, a representative from each floor, a proctor from each floor, and the dorm moderator or house mother. In Gallagher Hall, the Dean of Women also attends.

The smaller dorms may elect either to have an individual council or not. The purpose of the council is to deal with any new proposals that come up with reference to dorm life, and to provide an open forum for resident students to air any complaints or ideas.

The Bluejay Pep Club is an organization dedicated to service to the University and the promotion of school spirit. Its membership is open to all Creighton students.

Highlighting the year's activities were the Pep Club mixer and the Club Internationale variety show. Other activities include the sponsoring of pep rallies and assisting the Board of Governors with Homecoming by sponsoring the bonfire and snake dance.

Each year the Bluejay Spirit Award is given to the student who has contributed most to the promotion of school spirit on campus.

Student Bar Buys Up Legal Aid to Indigent

Every student in the Law School is a member of the Student Bar Association. Monthly the Association holds a luncheon at which members of the Omaha Bar speak on topics of professional interest. Another important event is the Student Bar Association's sponsorship of National Law Day.

All senior members of the Association have assisted the Omaha Legal Aid Society in providing counsel for indigent citizens of Omaha. Senior members, under the supervision of Dean Doyle, have arranged and sponsored moot court competition for the freshman class. The Association also publishes the Law School paper, The Docket, and assists in freshman orientation.

The students in Pharmacy School are all members of the Creighton University branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association. The primary function of the organization is to advance the profession of Pharmacy.

Guest speakers are usually at the monthly meetings to discuss topics in the fields of health and science. Also individual members may do independent research projects as a part of training for future practice. In addition, the Creighton chapter sends a delegate to the Annual American Pharmaceutical Association National Convention.

The Student American Medical Association is a national organization whose main purpose is to provide various services for medical students, interns, and resident doctors. In many instances the services rendered are those of a professional nature. The Student A.M.A. provides films, lectures, and publications in the many fields of medicine as an aid to its members.

This year representatives were sent to the Regional Convention in Minnesota, and to the National Convention in Chicago. In conjunction with the Med Wives Auxiliary, an annual dinner-dance is held at the Mediterranean Restaurant.

With the query "Sprechen Sie Deutsch?" the newly conceived Creighton University German Club invited interested persons to its first, organized meeting. A constitution was adopted in December, and the Deutscher Freundschaftsklub (German Friendship Club) began its official existence as a university organization.

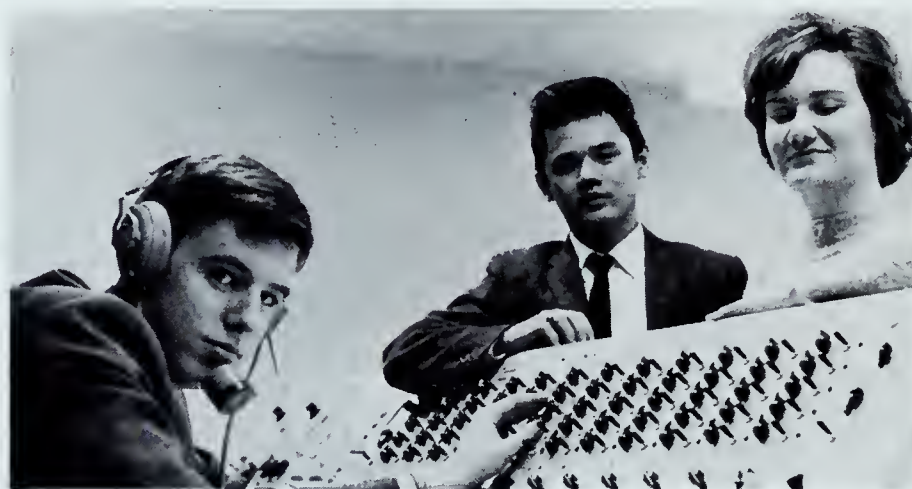

Similar to its sister French and Spanish Clubs in many respects, the German Club has a dual aim: to cultivate an interest and appreciation of the German culture and language, and to increase its members' German speaking facility.

The highlight of the year was Christmas caroling at a local German Old People's Home and viewing the movie, "Good Soldier Scheik."

The constitutional aims of the Spanish Club are to further appreciation and knowledge of the Spanish language and culture and to provide a means by which the members may become more fluent in Spanish conversation. More than twenty members, including natives of Latin American countries such as Panama, Cuba, and Columbia, meet every two weeks to study Spanish art, culture, education and folklore.

This year one meeting was set aside every month in which American students of Spanish could chat in Spanish with members from Latin America, thereby getting valuable conversational experience.

Le Cercle Francais Adds Fluency to Text

Le Cercle Francais was founded with the purpose of encouraging students in the use of the French language, and in learning more about France and French speaking countries. To promote these ideals, the regular bi-monthly meetings include games such as Lotto (Bingo), Password, and Charades in French. Other meetings are purely conversational in manner in order to develop confidence in speaking French.

Annual Social Activities include a Christmas Party, a Spring Picnic, and a dinner with a French menu at the Mediterranean Restaurant. Usually there are refreshments served at every other meeting during the school year.

The Pre-Medical Technologist Club of Creighton University is composed of those students enrolled in Pre-Medical Technology at Creighton and interns from Creighton enrolled as trainees in local hospitals.

The purpose of this organization is to better inform the members about the field of Medical Technology. This is fulfilled during their monthly meetings by having guest speakers from different phases of the field speak to members about their work.

Also, it is somewhat a tradition to have the interns in the hospitals organize a panel discussion explaining what the first few months in hospital work have been like. Other means of helping the members while they are in school is by having tours through laboratories of various hospitals, and films of work in the field of Technology.

The primary purpose of the C.U. Nurses' Association is to aid in the development of student nurses as truly democratic citizens. It directs interest toward the American Nurses Association and the National League for Nursing, by promoting professional and social unity among the Creighton nurses.

Interest during the past year was focused on District and State Student Nurse activities. In addition, meetings were sparked by an informal coffee hour, a hair-styling demonstration, a Christmas party, and talks on the Papal Volunteers, the Catholic Interracial Council, and the state Nurses' Association.

Fine Arts Club Looks To Informal Sensitivity

The Fine Arts Club is an informal group which arranges for faculty lectures open to all students. Topics range from a history of the ballad Genre to a demonstration of the various modes of Greek and Roman music. The Fine Arts Club has also sponsored guided tours through Joslyn Art Museum when a special collection was exhibited. It is thus the goal of the Fine Arts Club to stimulate the interest for fine arts on the Creighton Campus.

The Xavier Forum is a spiritual society of Creighton students and alumni. Its principal aim is to render spiritual support to the missions and missionaries at home and abroad, to help speed the realization of the "New Pentecost" foreseen by Pope John XXIII and longed for by Pope Paul VI.

Meetings, which traditionally open and close with prayer, consist mainly in talks on missionary subjects by missionaries.

South Dakota Students Seek Identity in Club

The South Dakota Club was formed with deliberate intentions to bring together people from all parts of South Dakota. Rides for vacations, social events, and news about the state, are discussed at monthly meetings. Much credit to the club's success lies in the encouragement from its advisor, Fr. Neil Cahill, S.J. The director of Alumni Relations, Mr. Bernie Conway, has cooperated extensively in securing publicity in hometown newspapers. This fall a hayride was held, and a patio party, cookout, and Missouri excursion were planned for spring. Thus, the South Dakota Club hopes to make college life just a little bit more enjoyable.

The function of the International Relations Club is to investigate current international topics. Whether the topic is Viet Nam, the race for space, or Charles DeGaulle, the format of the meeting consists of an informal atmosphere designed to stimulate round table discussion.

The club fulfills a two-fold purpose. First, it affords an opportunity for a consideration of today's complex international problems. The club also gives those students who may decide to major in Political Science an extra-curricular opportunity to find out what international relations involve.

Mathematicians Stress Student Presentation

Stimulating student interest in mathematics and encouraging student participation in club activities were the goals of this year's Mathematics Society.

During the first semester, the meetings were devoted entirely to student presentations, lectures, and problems. During the second semester, in addition to the student's own lectures, faculty members from several departments spoke on topics from mathematics and mathematical physics.

For the second consecutive year, the club's major project was the Annual Mathematics Field Day. Each April, Creighton's Mathematics Department sponsors a day-long mathematics competition for midwestern high school students. The year was concluded with a club picnic and a student-faculty soccer game.

The organization and growth of the Physics Club reflects the changes in the Physics Department at Creighton as well as the increased emphasis upon the scientist in the Atomic Age. The club strives to promote interest, understanding, and activity in Physics.

Subjects that are discussed at meetings vary from analog computers to Einstein's Theory of Relativity. The members also work on special projects to give added emphasis to lab work. At the Physics Field Day held in the Spring, students from surrounding high schools are invited to Creighton where the special projects are exhibited and explained to encourage high school students to consider physics as a career.

The Student affiliate of the American Chemical Society is comprised of a group of students having an orientation to the chemical sciences and other related fields. The Society offers a kinship and opportunity for the exchange of ideas both on the collegiate level and between student and professional men. The Society's activities are geared to engender within the member a professional stimulation and interest in the chemical fields of today and of the future.

The Society members have an opportunity to take tours and to make visits to the local chemical industries. This first hand view of the chemical industry is an all important fact in the development of the professional spirit needed for those considering a career in the field of chemistry.

The fast growing organization of People-to-People, 5 members to 54 members in two years, adds to the international flavor of the Creighton campus. The chapter was organized to aid the foreign students, in channelling assistance to them that they may be better acquainted with the United States, and to aid the American student, in understanding the ways of life of the people of foreign countries. The Creighton chapter has been busy this year in hosting about 16 students travelling through the United States, sponsoring several international folk festivals, foreign student teas, lawn parties, taking several tours of the various points of interest in the Omaha community, holding group discussions on the many world problems, and viewing several films of foreign countries.

The Minnesota Club, one of the newest groups on campus, was organized early in the second semester. Its purpose is to make Creighton University better known in Minnesota, and to make Minnesota better known at Creighton.

Since there are a number of students from Minnesota, they want to gain a membership large enough to sponsor social activities. Under the direction of Mr. Louis R. Geiselman, also from Minnesota, the club hopes to become one of the most active on campus. Its officers are: Skip Gleason, president; Jim Sanger, vice-president; Sharon Sheehan, secretary; and Greg Filas, treasurer.

Young Democrats Seek to Educate Voters

The Creighton branch of the Young Democrats, realizing the importance of an intelligent voting public, had as a goal the recruiting of new members and educating them in the principles of the Democratic Party. One of the most enthusiastic endeavors of the club was a trip to the National Convention of Young Democrats held at Las Vegas. Creighton's delegation was the largest college group in attendance.

S.N.E.A. Is Outside Aid to Future Profs

The Student National Education Associations has as its goal the development of qualified future teachers. In order to achieve these results, the members of the Creighton chapter attend state conventions with other Nebraska groups twice each year. Also discussions and talks by guest speakers help members to learn about teaching. A reception was also given each semester for the co-operating teachers with whom Creighton's student teachers work.

The Political Research Center is an undergraduate organization within the Political Science department. The center conducts projects in political research. The center personnel is made up of upper-division political science students, and other political science students who have expressed an interest in the center's activities.

The center's major projects for this year included the construction, administration, and correlation of a questionnaire measuring employee job attitudes for the Civil Service Commission, construction of an election model for predicting future Omaha municipal voting patterns, an investigation of special district government in Omaha and out-state Nebraska, and a behavioral analysis of the power structure of the Nebraska Unicameral.

SODALITIES

Law School Sodality Had Varied Program

This year the Law School Sodality had one of the largest memberships since its organization. The sodality presented an active program each week with a majority of the time being allotted to a discussion of the Encyclical of Pope John XXIII, Pacem in Terris. Also the Rev. Kelsey A. Jones spoke before the members on social discrimination and Negro housing in the Omaha area. Money was also collected by the members to provide food, clothing, and gifts during Christmastime for a needy family.

Medical Sodalists Put Stress On Speakers

The main purpose of the Medical School Sodality is to combine the spiritual life of the members with academic activities. For the Medical Sodality, spirituality must be directed toward giving a good example as a Catholic in the field of medicine. This idea is imperative because medicine and morality cannot be divorced. At their monthly meetings, guest speakers discuss topics of interest concerned with fulfilling future duties as a Catholic doctor.

The Men's Arts Sodality is dedicated to developing in its members a Christian commitment to the world. The program offered by the Sodality seeks to develop the sodalist through himself and through others.

The Sodality proposes a daily program of self-examination and spiritual reflection which can be continued after college days are over.

Creighton University is also served by the Sodality. It provided a forum for the discussion of current trends and problems in modern life. Christmas baskets for the poor were distributed by the Sodality. Also the Sodality, along with its moderator, Rev. Edmund Stumpf, S.J., introduced the dialogue Mass.

The Coed Sodalists studied The Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola at their regular meetings this year. The Exercises underlie the Sodality spirit and way of life.

In addition to this program of study and discussion, they undertook various apostolic works such as helping to staff the Christ Child centers and working for St. James orphanage, The Good Shepherd Convent, and the Creighton Development office.

The Coed Sodality also took over the mailing of Alert Spiritual First Aide pamphlets this year. This work was originally begun by Rev. Gerald FitzGibbon, S.J. It now has international distribution.

Sodality Union Fuses Inter-School Groups

The Omaha College Sodality Union is composed of twelve Sodalities representing Creighton University's Undergraduate and Professional Schools as well as those from Duchesne College, College of Saint Mary, Saint Catherine's School of Nursing, and Mercy Hospital School of Nursing. The function of the College Sodality Union is to provide special opportunities for all members of the Union to meet and discuss activities and topics of general interest to sodalists. Choir Provides Hilltop With Three Concerts

The choir is a service organization which provides music for such events as the Mass of the Holy Ghost and the May Crowning. It also sang several Masses for both university and private functions. In order to provide a greater source of serious music for the Creighton student, the choir provided three major concerts emphasizing the work of contemporary composers.

A new look dominates The Creightonian this year. The campus weekly now has a modern newsroom and darkroom, and new desks in the Student Center. The eight page newspaper is a product of journalism students and enables them to gain first-hand newspaper experience.

Staff members are appointed by the Department of Journalism from the majors and minors and reporters are recruited from basic journalism classes. The staff must meet a Thursday noon deadline with the printers. The student body receives the paper Friday morning.

The Creightonian is affiliated with the Associated Collegiate Press, which awarded the paper an All-American Honor Rating for second semester last year.

The Bluejay--They Said It Wouldn't Be Done

The 1964 Bluejay that you now hold in your hands is the product of untold man hours stretching from May of 1963 to April of 1964. There is little need for copy describing the effort. More important here is the opportunity to thank those who helped us over the year's biggest obstacles. To single each of them out would require more space than is available; they know who they are and, we hope, now know how we appreciated their help.

The 320 pages of the 1964 Bluejay make it the largest in Creighton's history. We present it to you with pride.

This Spring marked the first anniversary of the return of Shadows, the Creighton University literary magazine. The magazine is staffed entirely by undergraduate students chosen by the editor who is in turn approved by the Student Board of Governors. Shadows is also under the sponsorship of Pi Delta Epsilon.

All material published in Shadows is chosen from student and faculty contributions. The magazine appears on campus in the Fall and in the Spring. The first edition of Shadows was given a Second Class rating by the Associated Collegiate Press and took third place at the Pi Delta Epsilon national convention in the Fall.

Second Semester News Director, Don Hetzler.

Station Manager, Jim Hamilton . . . reaching to the limits of broadcast.

"You're listening to the voice of Creighton University, the fabulous five-fifty frequency, KOCU . . . Omaha." The radio station on campus is completely student-operated, and provides experience for those students in the radio-television medium, as well as a source of interest and fun for all 83 staff members. A total of 25 newscasts a week, plus weekly reviews of the big news and sports stories are broadcast.

In addition to play-by-play coverage of all Bluejay home basketball games, KOCU also carried, by remote facilities, some of the guest lectures and panel programs, musical programs and concerts, music for one of the mixers, numerous special programs for the Student Center, and a continuous broadcast of registration proceedings.

The King's Men principle is, "Dearest Lord, teach me to serve You as You deserve." The members of this organization feel that a priest offering Mass on a Catholic campus without a server is incongruous. Thus, they are asked to serve two Masses weekly. Membership in King's Men also makes one a member of the Apostleship of Prayer. The Apostleship is a way of life in which one learns to unite his day in love and sacrifice with the Sacred Heart of Jesus for one's own salvation and perfection and for the salvation of others.

The Creighton Players are people bound together by the spirit of the theatre and the desire to work in it. The group is composed of actors, artists, and technicians dedicated to entertain, instruct and inspire the students of Creighton through the medium of the theatre.

In the past, meetings have been the rehearsals and presentations of shows such as: Leave It to Jane, The Hypochondriac, Royal Gambit, Home of the Brave, Damn Yankees, Under Milk Wood, and Babes in Arms. The players brought The Prodigal and Two Gentlemen of Verona to the campus this spring. The accomplishments of the organization are readily seen in the support given to the productions by the student body.

The Jaytalkers, or the Debate Club as it is more commonly known, is one of the most active organizations on campus. This year the team debated in Denver, St. Paul, South Bend, Lawrence, Missoula, Wichita, and Kansas City, besides participating in tournaments in the local area.

Many hours were spent researching the topics in the libraries of Omaha, and writing for information which could not be obtained locally. However, the great amount of time spent in practice and in research proved rewarding. For though Creighton was pitted against some of the top colleges and universities in the country, the team was never shown to be at a loss for words.

Drill Team and Honor Guard Expand Activity

The Creighton University Honor Guard and the Drill Team both engage in a faster and more specified program than the regular R.O.T.C. One of the major functions performed by the Honor Guard is usher and color guard service during Greater Creighton week, the Alpha Sigma Nu lectures, and commencement exercises. This year the Drill Team performed at the Military Ball, the Homecoming Parade, the Oklahoma City basketball game and at the review honoring Colonel Rohr on his retirement. In the spring the team gave a demonstration at the R.O.T.C. Federal Inspection.

Mr. Carl Bleich

The Creighton University Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Carl Bleich, was newly organized this year. A departure from the martial music of the R.O.T.C. band, it was begun as an experiment in a new type of music on the campus. However, the band hopes to attract enough young talent to make it a vital organization at Creighton.

At present, the group consists of approximately 35 pieces including flute, oboe, clarinet, saxophone, trombone, trumpet, French horn, tuba and drums.

The band held its first concert in May, beginning a new era in musical accomplishment at Creighton.

The Pan-Hellenic Council consists of two representatives from each of the four national social sororities at Creighton. Under the guidance of the National Pan-Hellenic Council, the Creighton chapter strives to maintain a high plane of fraternity life and to further sound scholarship.

In the fall, the Pan-Hellenic organized the Pepsi party to begin the two weeks rush period. The rush was then continued by each of the four social sororities on an individual basis. An annual dance honoring the new initiates was held in February at the Blackstone. The Pan-Hellenic trophy and the City Pan-Hellenic tray was awarded to the sorority with the highest scholastic average.

Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional business fraternity, was organized at Creighton in 1956. The fraternity attempts to familiarize its members with the business world by holding a monthly professional dinner with businessmen in the Omaha area.

Other activities for the past year include the regional convention held last fall, as well as the annual Halloween and Christmas parties. The biggest social event of the year was the Spring formal at which the "Sweetheart of Alpha Kappa Psi" was named.

The fraternity is open only to Business students and Arts students majoring in economics.

Alpha Phi Omega, which was established at Creighton in 1952 by members from the Arts and Business Administration Schools serves the student body and faculty in a wide variety of activities. The members of the fraternity assist with registration and Freshman Week, operate the Lost and Found in the Student Center, usher at various functions, and promote the annual Red Cross Blood Drive on campus.

One of the major social events of the fall semester was A. Phi O.'s formal dinner dance on January 12, when the fraternity crowned Margaret Mrzlak Sweetheart of Alpha Phi Omega. A tri-state convention and the annual Luau were held in the Spring.

Delta Sigma Pi is an international business fraternity with its Beta Theta chapter on Creighton's campus.

Even before the school year began, Delta Sigma Pi began its work for the University by arranging transportation for new students coming to the Hilltop. Another of its many duties has been ushering at the student Mass and at other campus events, such as Convocation. Its major project, along with Alpha Kappa Psi, is the presentation of the annual Bus. Ad. Booster Days.

The fraternity's biggest social event is the Rose Ball, held on April 18, at which the Rose of Delta Sigma Pi is crowned.

The Alpha chapter of Iota Kappa Epsilon is a service fraternity serving the athletic department of Creighton University. Throughout the school year many activities such as liming the football fields, providing referees for the various intramural sports, and ushering at Creighton's home basketball games fall under their charge.

Included in their social events are the pledge-active parties, annual float building, and the annual spring formal. The highlight of this dinner dance is the crowning of an elected Creighton co-ed as the First Lady of Iota Kappa Epsilon.

Delta Sigma Delta Adds Supplementary Clinics

The objectives of Delta Sigma Delta are to enable its members to acquire both professional and social skills. Guest speakers and special clinics are scheduled throughout the year to keep the actives informed of the problems and developments in the field of dentistry. It is felt that the clinics give the students a chance to see how textbook knowledge is transformed into working principles.

Outstanding social activities were the annual Hawaiian Party and the Western Gambling party. The fraternity's membership is regulated by high academic and personal standards. Delta Sigma Delta members received eleven out of sixteen awards presented to the Senior Class.

Xi Psi Phi Footballers Claim Inter-Frat First

Alpha Kappa Chapter of Xi Psi Phi, professional dental fraternity, maintains a full spectrum of activities developing its members scholastically, socially, and athletically. To fulfill the first goal, they invite prominent members of the dental community to speak at meetings. The Suppressed Desire Party is an example of the many parties which enhance the fraternity's social life. The Jacques, ZIP's intramural team, won first place in the fraternity football league.

An auxiliary of the fraternity is called the Zippettes, composed of members' wives. Their function is to welcome new freshmen and they maintain an active social program for "women only."

Phi Rho Sigma is a national professional medical fraternity. One of its chief purposes is to provide the atmosphere and the facilities most suited to a medical student's needs as he pursues his course.

For monthly meetings the fraternity invites a prominent physician to speak on a topic of general interest to the students of all classes. This year a panel discussion on internships and residencies was initiated.

The major project of the year was construction of the new wood-panelled Adolph Sachs Memorial Library, which is available for the members' use twenty-four hours a day.

More Chapter of PAD Law fraternity is one of the approximately 105 active chapters of the national organization. It is now one of the three chapters that has a fraternity house for the use of its active members and alumni.

This house was acquired through the active efforts of the chapter. These efforts involved the location of a suitable residence, and later a fight over the zoning of the house which finally ended in a victory for the fraternity before the Omaha City Council. This spring More Chapter was host to ten other local chapters in a District Conclave held here in Omaha.

Other functions included talks by local lawyers and seminars discussing various legal problems.

Phi Chi Balances Both Social and Intellectual

Founded at the University of Vermont in 1889, Phi Chi International Medical Fraternity chartered its Chi Upsilon Chapter at Creighton University in 1916. Since then, more than seven hundred Creighton medics have worn the skull-and-crossbones of the society whose purpose is to "promote, by precept and example, brotherhood, honor, ethics, encouragement . . . and assistance, and to better the quality of medical education." Phi Chi wishes to preserve the balanced personality of the physician during his years of training; hence, its activities encompass the social and athletic spheres as well as the intellectual.

Alpha Sigma Alpha Has Varied Activities

The objective of Alpha Sigma Alpha, national social sorority, is the development of its members spiritually, intellectually, and socially.

There are many activities in which the members participate in order to accomplish the goals of the sorority. They help with the Pan-Hellenic formal dances, sell Homecoming mums, aid the Community Chest drive, and do volunteer work at St. James Orphanage. The social activities of the sorority consist of a celebration of Founder's Day with sorority alumnae, and parties for their pledges. Alpha Sigma Alpha was the past recipient of the Pan-Hellenic trophy which is given to the sorority with the highest scholastic average.

Delta Zeta Sponsors Drive for Navajoes

Delta Zeta possesses the longest history of national affiliation among the sororities at Creighton. The sorority's major philanthropy is the Navajoe Indians whom the girls help to support with such campaigns as clothing drives. The pledge class also helped out with the children at St. James' Orphanage while the actives visited the aged at St. Vincent's.

Other activities during the year included a Halloween hayride, a brunch on Convocation Day, a party with the alumnae chapter, and the traditional steak fry in the Spring. On May 9th, State Day was held in Omaha, and Theta Eta Chapter at Creighton was hostess to all of the Delta Zeta Chapters in the province.

Sigma Sigma Sigma is one of the newest sororities at Creighton University. It was established in 1961. Its members are dedicated to social and academic leadership, and to the civic development of women. A high quality point average is needed for membership in this sorority, and the actives set up a steady table in the library to help pledges study more effectively.

The civic development of women was carried out by the Christmas Party which the members gave for under-privileged Indian children. The girls also sponsored a fund raising drive in conjunction with Brandeis Department Store to raise money for the Robbie Page Memorial.

Theta Phi Alpha, national social sorority was founded for the purpose of uniting women scholastically, socially, and spiritually through the bonds of Catholicity.

Members of Chi Chapter conducted a clothing drive and book collection for the Glenmary missions, their special charity. Other activities include several parties, Founder's Day dinner, and the annual steak fry. They produced a skit for Creighton Capers and their Homecoming float, built with Delta Sigma Pi, won second place.

"Sweetie Pie of Theta Phi," announced at the initiation dinner, was Ken Mall, Business Administration senior. This was the beginning of a tradition Chi hopes to continue.

Lambda Kappa Sigma Reorganized This Year

Lambda Kappa Sigma is the oldest and largest professional pharmaceutical sorority for women. This year on the Creighton campus, Theta Chapter was reorganized. The impetus for reactivation came from the increased number of coeds in Pharmacy School coupled with a new interest in the sorority. In the spring formal initiation ceremonies took place.

Future activities will be directed toward cooperation with faculty and students in both social and academic fields, and furthering of professional interests.

Alpha Omega Alpha Honors Ideal Medics

Alpha Omega Alpha is the national honorary medical fraternity founded in 1902 at the University of Illinois. The Beta Chapter of Nebraska was installed at Creighton in 1954.

Membership is limited to junior and senior medical students in the upper twenty-five per cent of their class. As bases for admission, each member must possess scholarship, a high degree of personal integrity, and demonstrate potential leadership in the field of medicine.

At the annual initiation dinner, cash awards are presented to the three seniors who submit the best theses to a board of faculty members.

Alpha Sigma Nu Puts Stress On Seminars

Alpha Sigma Nu is the National Jesuit Honor Society for men. Since its inception in 1915, its aim has been to instill in others an ever increasing sense of the qualities required of the members themselves. The standards of the society are scholarship, loyalty, and service.

To meet these obligations, the society sponsors seminars which attempt to bring the participants to a greater understanding of today's society. The Creighton chapter conducts orientation and directs prospective freshmen during their final year of high school. Other undertakings include any projects which may improve the tone of campus life intellectually, socially, or spiritually.

Membership in Gamma Pi Epsilon, national Jesuit honor society for women, is recognition of scholarship, loyalty, and service to the university.

Throughout the year the society sponsors several teas, one at Christmas for nuns and sisters, another in spring for area high school girls interested in attending Creighton. Gamma Pi also conducts orientation for freshman women.

"Bonnie Bluejay," an informative pamphlet for prospective coeds, and the Homecoming booklet, are the responsibility of Gamma Pi Epsilon.

The elected officers are: Jeanne Slaninger, President; Michaele Rosse, Vice-President; Beth Gale, Secretary; and Hannelore Neutzner, Treasurer.

Beta Alpha Psi, a national honorary society for accounting majors, has as its goal the furthering of scholarship and professional interest of its members. The Alpha Nu Chapter was installed at Creighton in 1953.

The main project of the fraternity is to help those who have difficulty with accounting. The society sponsors a remedial course for students in lower division classes; and this year, four seminars were held on specific problems confronting the public accountant. In addition, a $500 prize is awarded to the accounting student of highest academic achievement.

Alpha Psi Omega Gets Members From Stage

Alpha Psi Omega is the National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, and membership is gained through participation on and off stage in university and community productions. Its members are also actively engaged in campus theatrical productions. This year they assisted the speech department with Babes In Arms, The Prodigal, and The Two Gentlemen of Verona.

The extra-curricular workshops, initiated for the preparation of new members also had an additional purpose. It gave all students a chance to become better acquainted with the theater, through lectures given by prominent Omaha theater people, and through practical workshops in make-up, set construction, and set painting.

Row 3: Dennis L. Morin, LeRoy F. Auer, Dr. A. M. Schleich, Joseph P. Fleischman, Daniel J. Spellman, James Guss.

Members of Phi Alpha Theta national honorary history fraternity, are selected on the basis of scholarship after having completed twelve semester hours of history. Members of the organization are entitled to participate in the scholarships and writing contests sponsored annually as well as being able to receive The Historian, the fraternity's journal of history.

At Creighton the work of the Theta Eta chapter is directed toward encouraging the student's interest in history. This aim is carried out by sponsoring guest lectures and fund raising projects whereby historical works may be purchased for the library.

Pi Delta Epsilon Gives Unity to C.U.'s Voices

Pi Delta Epsilon is a national honorary journalism fraternity whose purpose is to promote student participation in undergraduate publications and to establish a code of ethics among the staffs of individual publications.

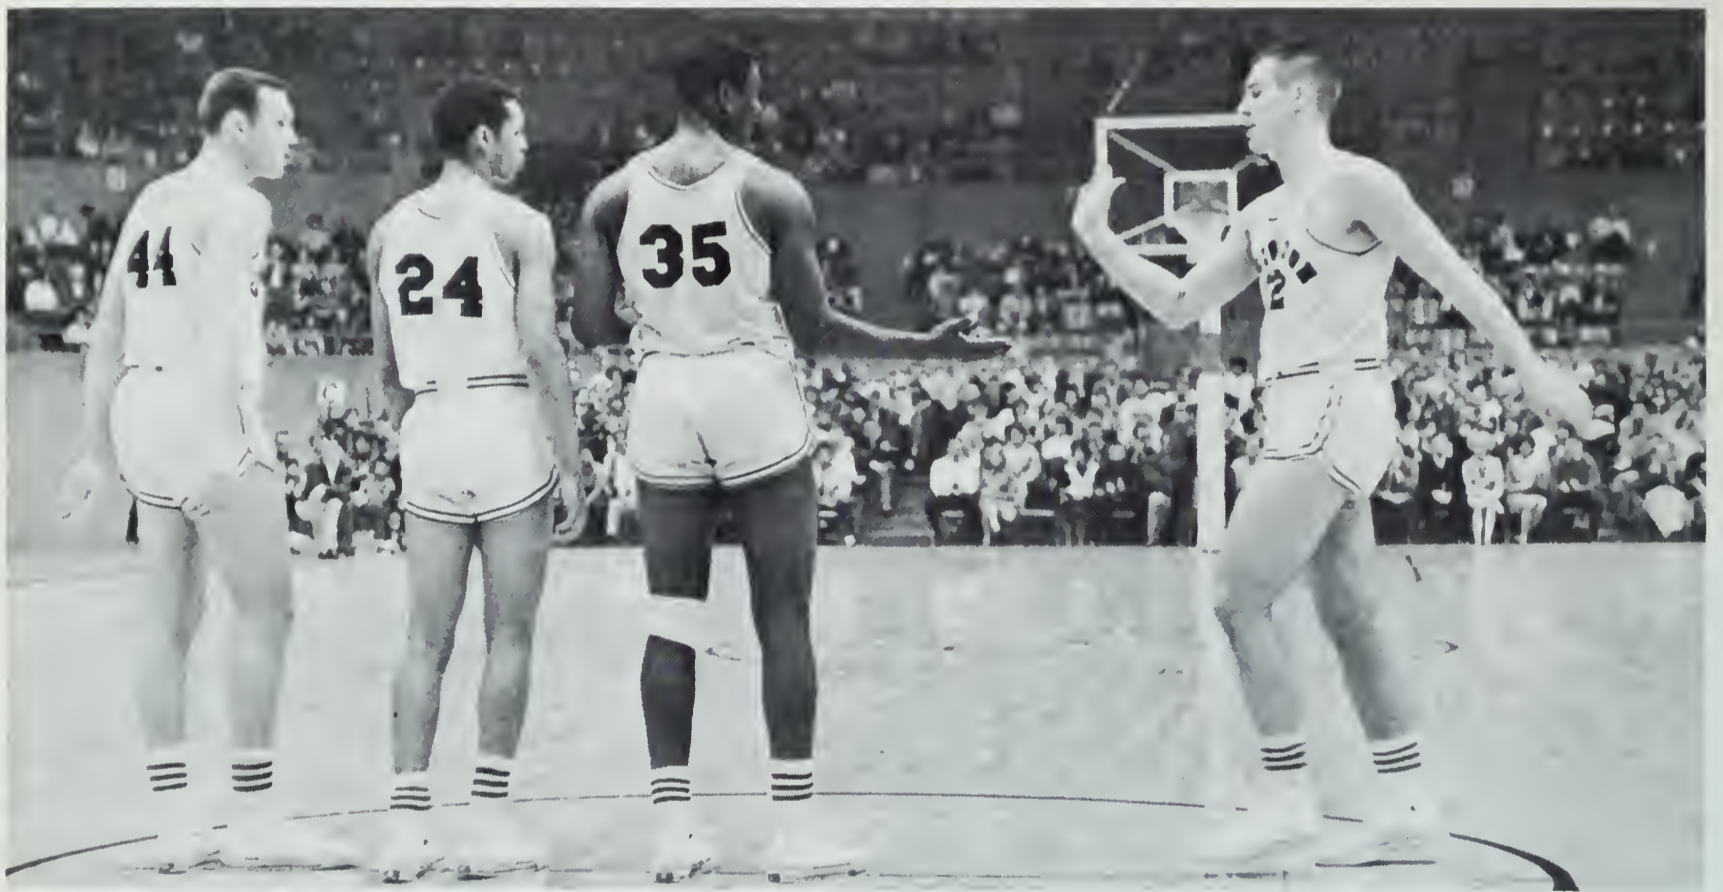

Any student who has worked on any of the various communication media at Creighton for one year and has completed his sophomore year is eligible for membership.

This year the fraternity sent two delegates to the national convention in Carbondale, Illinois. Creighton's chapter also assists at the High School Editor's Roundtable held each year, and in the distribution of Shadows each spring and fall.

Athletic Administration Sports Midwest's Best

John "Red" McManus, Athletic Director

The Creighton University Athletic Administration is made up of three top men in the college sport's world. Athletic Director and head coach for five seasons at Creighton is John J. (Red) McManus. He is a graduate of St. Ambrose College in Davenport, Iowa.

Herb Millard is the Freshman coach and the Assistant Varsity coach. Millard is a 1963 graduate of Creighton, and was the captain of the Bluejay's 1961-62 team which had a 21-5 record.

A key man in the Creighton athletic program is Gene Duffy, business manager. His responsibilities include travel arrangements, ticket sales, budgets and such. Duffy is a 1959 graduate of Notre Dame where he was the co-captain of both the basketball and baseball teams during his senior year.

The purpose of the C.U.H.L.A. is to stimulate campus interest in inter-collegiate athletics and to bring to Creighton a code by which its athletes will conduct themselves.

Former Creighton coaches Jim Berry, Rex Aubrey and Tommy Thomsen, and present coaches John J. (Red) McManus and Herb Millard are honored members. C.U.H.L.A. is known not only for its production of coaches, but also for its members who have gone into business, medicine, dentistry, education, engineering, public relations, and law.

The members, as is the custom, wear the monogram every Friday, sell programs at basketball games, have at least three social gatherings a year and select the winner of the Carl Ciani Award.

The 1963-64 sports season saw an innovation on the cheering squad—the first male cheerleaders since 1957. This raised the total to eight girls and two men. Arts sophomore, Pauline Jirik, was elected captain by her teammates, who were selected from a group of forty who tried out.

Besides cheering at all the home games and the pep rallies, the cheerleaders traveled to Chicago, South Dakota and Wichita for the NCAA tournament.

The organization holding the strange title of "Arooga" is unique on Creighton's campus. The men's pep club was originally begun several years ago, but had since died out. This year it was revived by an enterprising and highly spirited group of students whose purpose was to promote greater enthusiasm at the varsity basketball games. This they achieved with a high degree of success as evidenced by their past performance.

Admission to the group is only by vote of the present members. Arooga has its own cheers and sits in a special section at the games where the members can be recognized by their uniforms—the Arooga sweatshirt and a big, floppy hat.

Coach Herb Millard's Bluejay freshman basketball team rolled up a 15-5 record for the 1963-64 season. The team's 6-2 mark in the Midwest AAU League earned them a three-way tie for first place with Columbus, Behlen's and Omaha's Jaguars. The Young Jays scored 100 or more points in seven games and shot a record-shattering 94.2 per game average. Jay Warhaftig, the 5-9 all-New York City guard from Forest Hills, claimed all frosh scoring records as he hit 551 points in 17 games for a 32.4 average. He also took the single-game scoring record of 54 points. Tim Powers, a 6-7 all-Illinois pivotman hit at a 24.8 points per game clip to give the frosh frontline scoring punch. Head coach John "Red" McManus called the pair "ready for the varsity right now."

Coach John "Red" McManus's basketball Bluejays set six new team records, plus home attendance marks during the 1963-64 season. The Jays played before 86,856 fans in 13 home games at Omaha's Civic Auditorium including a standing-room-only crowd of 10,556 for the Oklahoma City game. The 22 wins were the most ever for a Creighton team, as were the 2,441 points and 84.2 scoring average with 1,024 field goals. Single game marks for most points and field goals were established in the Bluejay's 124-94 win over Miami University of Florida when Creighton tallied a record 54 field goals. The Jays worst loss came at the hands of the Oklahoma City Chiefs in their first meeting, 101-85.

The Bluejays started the season off with a bang by winning nine games in a row before running into the NCAA champion UCLA Bruins on the West Coast. The Jays opened the season by pounding Colorado 85-72 with the help of a zone defense that stifled the Buffs. With Paul Silas playing very little because of a knee injury, Hardin-Simmons was the next victim 72-58. Charlie Brown hit eight field goals to lead the Bluejays to a 77-62 Homecoming victory over LaSalle and Harry Forehand hit six points in the last minute of play to pull the Jays from a 61-57 deficit to a 63-61 victory over Idaho State to make it four wins in a row for the rampaging Creighton team.

The Jays proved they were tops under pressure by taking a last second victory from Arizona State 84-83. In a game highlighted by Chuck Officer's game-tying shot while he was in a prone position on the court and Bobby Miles free throw shooting in the two overtime periods. The Hilltoppers made it six in a row by beating Utah State 96-91. The Bluejays then downed Iowa 77-72 in one overtime and tripped Gonzago 89-79 before heading for the West Coast. Creighton toppled Long Beach State 99-93 before running into the Bruin buzzsaw and losing a foul-marred 95-79 decision. The Jays then topped Nevada 92-63 and South Dakota 75-54 before being dumped by Oklahoma City 101-85. The Bluejays then swamped Notre Dame 95-81 before a capacity crowd with Silas hitting a season high 37 points.

New Mexico State and Marquette fell under the Bluejay wrath 99-73 and 84-57 before the Hill-toppers headed for their ill-fated Eastern Coast trip. Losing two out of three games doomed the Jay's chances for any national ranking as they fell to Providence 80-77 and St. John's 64-60 after toppling Canisius 74-72. Creighton then pounded Aquinas 106-60 with Mike Lyons scoring the first varsity points of his career in that game. The Bluejays then lost their only home game in a heartbreaking last-second defeat by the Memphis State Tigers 87-86. Miami was then shot down 124-94 under the warm Florida sun and Western Michigan was beaten 88-72 in a Chicago snow storm.

Creighton got revenge for an earlier defeat by trouncing Oklahoma City 94-77 before the largest crowd ever to witness a Bluejay game in the Civic Auditorium. The Hilltoppers then traveled to New York City where Chuck Officer made a last-second shot to dump NYU 88-86 in Madison Square Garden and make up for some prestige lost in the earlier eastern trip. Notre Dame again felt the sting of Creighton's hot shooting hand as the Irish went down 84-71 at South Bend, Ind. In the play-off for an NCAA Midwest Regional Tournament spot, the Jays downed Oklahoma City for the second time 89-78 in Dallas, Texas.

Silas scores his record-breaking bucket.

The team congratulates Silas on his new scoring record.

All-American Paul Silas rounded his collegiate basketball career by competing for a berth on the United States Olympic basketball team. The 6'7" senior led the 1963-64 Jays to their winningest record (22-7) as captain and set six new individual player records to add to two written in 1961-62. Silas, who guided the Bluejays to two NCAA tournament berths in his three year career, led the nation in rebounding his sophomore and junior years. He was named to many all-opponent and All-American teams. Proving he is a student as well as a sportsman, Silas is a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit honor society.

Bluejays Finish Fourth In Midwest Regional

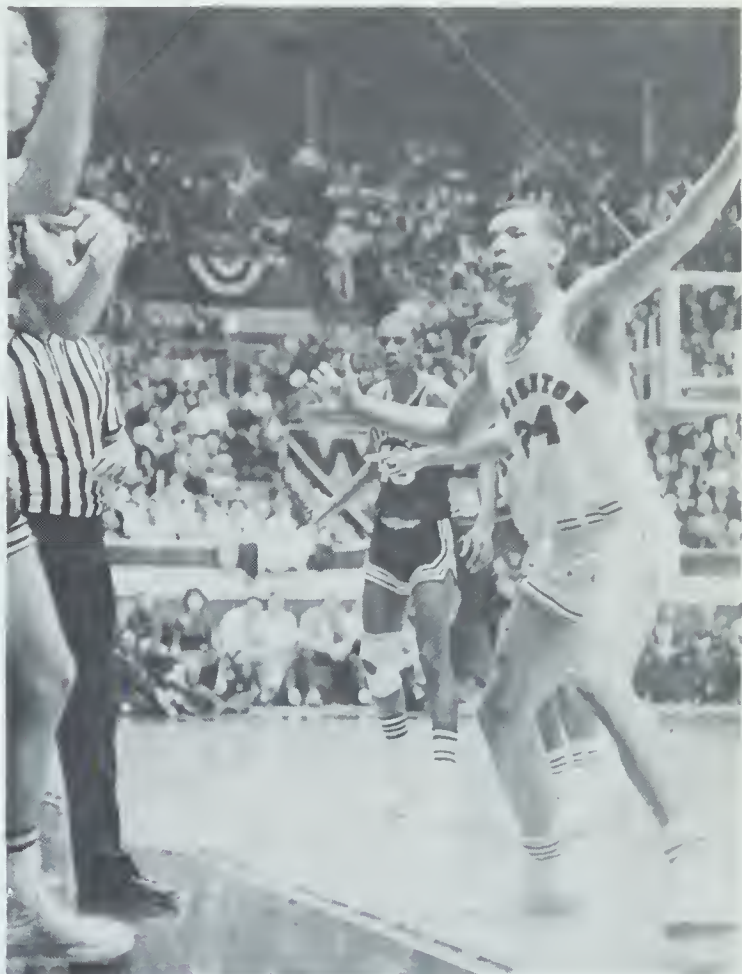

Coach McManus receives tournament award in Wichita.

Invited to the NCAA post-season playoffs for the second time in three years, the Bluejays took it on the chin twice to place fourth in the Midwest Regional tourney at Wichita, Kan., March 13-14. In the opening round the Wichita University Shockers, complete with a near 10,000 home fan cheering section, bounced the Jays 83-68. An excessive amount of fouls plus some cold shooting doomed the Hilltoppers from the start. Creighton's Paul Silas held highly-touted Shocker Dave Stallworth to one field goal and two free throws in the first half. Texas Western knocked off the Jays in the consolation game the following night 63-52. Poor foul-shooting again plagued the Creighton boys as they hit only 50 percent from the line. The Bluejays outshot the Miners from the field 22-21.

Soccer Club Kicks Off Second Year of Action

Coach Gerald Hutchison's soccer team began its second year of existence with an expanded schedule plus official recognition as a club. Organized by a student, Eduardo Iragorri, the club had fall and spring schedules. In the first semester they played the University of Nebraska, Union College of Lincoln, and the Storz soccer team for a 2-3 record. Spring opponents included Storz, Nebraska, Iowa State, South Dakota and Kansas University. Mr. Hutchison, chairman of the Mathematics Department in his spare time, played professionally in England and acts as a playing coach. Several foreign countries, including Colombia, Greece, Nigeria, Panama, Sicily and Turkey are represented by students on the team.

Rifle Team Fires Holes In Tough Intercity Loop

Coached by Staff Sgt. Melvin Kalloch, the rifle team this year was composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores. Nevertheless, the squad was entered in the tough Omaha Intercity League against teams with years of experience behind them. Following the example of other Creighton athletic squads, the team was not afraid of big-time competition: Kansas State University, South Dakota State, the University of Nebraska and Kemper Military Academy in Boonville, Mo. At Kemper, riflemen Luke Wallace, Arthur Coate and Charles Hutchinson won individual expert medals for shooting excellence. Several matches were for ROTC members only, but most of the 31 competitions were open to all shooters.

Coach Herb Millard's baseballers, with only one senior on the squad, went through the 1964 season looking forward to next year. The green Jays had three freshmen—Gary Potthoff, Tom Tvrdik and Joe Daly in starting or alternate outfield positions and two freshmen, Jerry Beninato and Bill Propater, in the regular pitching rotation. Doran Ryan, the senior earned his fourth varsity letter in the center-field position. Shortstop Bryan Noonan last year's most valuable player, and sophomore third baseman Jack Kroening were the team's leading hitters. Junior Bud Swayne carried the brunt of the pitching load. Sophomores Denny Chapman, "the arm," and Joe Carpenter, "the power," alternated at catcher. Juniors Bob Hudek at pitcher, Bob Kogut at second base and John Koenig at first, round out the top unit. The Bluejay nine played the home part of their 27 game schedule at Fontenelle Park.

Woman's Touch Adds To Bluejay Net Team

The tennis team, coached by the Rev. Anthony P. Weber, S.J., sported that feminine touch as they took the court for the 1964 season. Freshman Kathy Welsh, one of the top women players in Nebraska, not only made the varsity, but proved she could hit the ball over the net as well as most of her male counterparts. The Bluejay netsters almost equalled the basketball team for big-time competition, playing Kansas State, the University of Kansas, and the University of Nebraska. Although Terry Tonkin was the only senior on the squad, experience was the key to the Bluejay success. Underclassmen Tom Mullen, Jim Fogarty, John Lammers and Miss Welsh had plenty of court know-how before coming to the Hill-top. The Jay-netters played a 13 game spring schedule.

Golf Team Competes In Spring, Fall Seasons

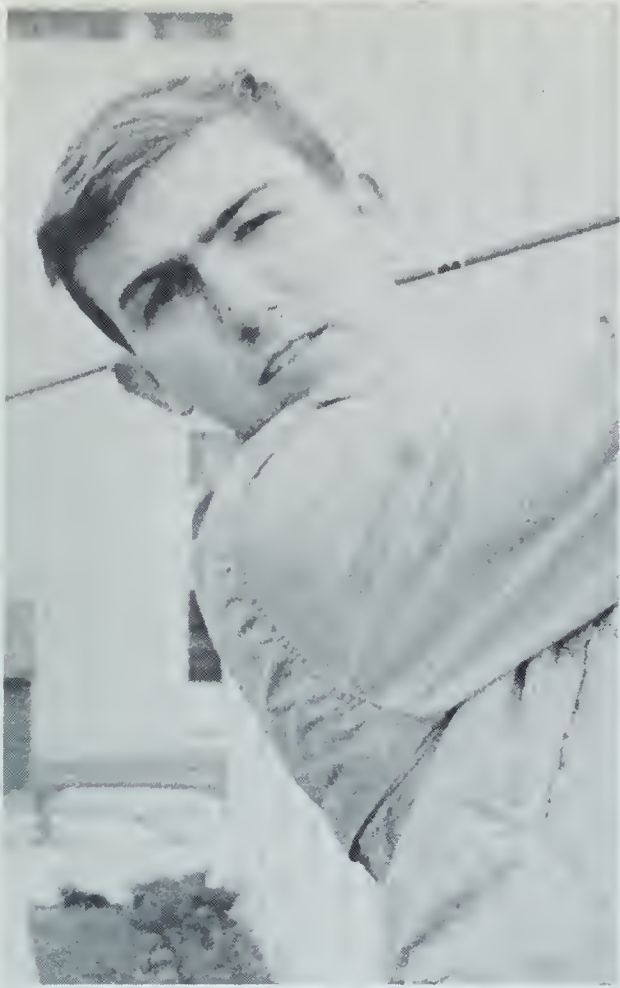

Coach Red McManus and the golf team—Mike Conway, Bill Surber, Tom Smith, Fred Werve and John Gross.

Coach John "Red" McManus's golfers are the only Creighton team to compete in two seasons during one year. To comply with an NCAA rule requiring a school to field teams in four sports, one during each season, a fall golf program was set up to go along with the regular spring outing. In fall competition, a two win - two lost series with the University of Nebraska and a trip to the Tucker Invitational Tournament in Albuquerque, New Mexico were highlights of the season. Linksters Bob Mitera, Tom Schuchart, Tom Smith and Bill Surber placed high in individual competition in that meet Oct. 9-12. Nebraska and Dana College of Blair, Nebr., followed Creighton's lead in establishing a fall golf program to provide the Bluejays with some local competition. Spring matches included six away with the likes of Peru and Midland Colleges and five at home at Omaha's Miracle Hill Golf Course with such toughies as Omaha University and Nebraska University.

Found on the agenda of the Women's Recreation Association this year was everything from ice skating to rifle shooting. Under the leadership of president Pat Cunningham, the group planned an outside activity for each month of the school year, including horseback riding, tobogganing parties, and tennis matches.

Their spirit was not limited to athletic activities, however; Homecoming brought their annual parade entry: a series of decorated cars full of girls.

Their biggest project this year was the realization of a long-held dream: a women's rifle team. Early in the spring they pitted their skill against the varsity gunners. Surprisingly, the coeds were not defeated by any astounding figures.
